A school in Sydney is doing a project about being friends. On their website they ask you to write about what good friends are like.

Write about what you think a real friend should be like. You can describe a friend who is special to you, or a friend you would like to have. He or she could be your own age, an adult or younger than you.

Here are some things you can write about:

- who your friend is
- why your friend is special
- a special memory
- the future (Will you still be friends?)
- yourself as a friend (What kind of friend are you?)

Write as much as possible! Use English all the time!